

Under 10s Match Report: HBE U10 REDS vs. ST IVES U10 NAVY

Round 6 – 21 May 2023

On a sunny but cool day with a chilly wind, the HBE U10 REDS and ST IVES U10 NAVY under 10s teams engaged in an exciting match. The young athletes showcased their skills and determination, with some standout performances that contributed to an enjoyable game for all involved.

In the first quarter, HBE got off to a solid start by scoring 1 goal and 1 behind. Despite St Ives's efforts, they were unable to register a score during this period. HBE's goal brought cheers from their supporters, showcasing their early attacking prowess.

As the second quarter began, HBE continued their offensive pressure. Although they had numerous attempts at goal, the windy conditions made it challenging to convert their shots accurately. Nonetheless, their persistence paid off with one more goal, increasing their lead.

During the third quarter, HBE's teamwork and coordination improved. They managed to score a few more goals, extending their advantage. St Ives, on the other hand, put up a spirited fight and finally got on the scoreboard with a behind, which was met with applause from their team and supporters.

In the final quarter, HBE's dominance became more evident. Their forwards pushed forward relentlessly, resulting in multiple goals. St Ives's defence worked hard to prevent further scores but couldn't find a breakthrough. The quarter ended without any additional points for SIN.

Notable performances from Milo F and Michael C finding scoring opportunities and Ethan R showed remarkable improvement in this match. Additionally, Ethan R's efforts did not go unnoticed, and their contributions were crucial in supporting HBE U10 REDS's victory and as such he received Player of the match award.

In the midfield Yuin C and Max F deserve recognition for their exceptional efforts. Their midfield efforts played a significant role in creating scoring opportunities for their team.

Despite the one-sided scoreline, it is important to highlight the sportsmanship and teamwork displayed by both teams.